

6 Reasons Healthcare Organizations Choose MedTrainer's Credentialing Platform

1. Unmatched Visibility

Customizable dashboards and reports provide the data you need to project revenue, plan for growth, and manage staffing. Plus, activity logs track every action within the platform so you know if an enrollment application has been sitting too long or if providers are dragging their feet submitting documents.

2. Time-Saving Automation

Customers say MedTrainer shortens the credentialing process by three weeks on average, so new hires are in front of patients sooner. Much of this time savings is due to the automation of manual processes, such as license verification and exclusions monitoring. MedTrainer completes these tedious processes with notifications when a human touch is needed.

3. Continuous Innovation

G2 reviewers gave MedTrainer's credentialing platform a perfect score for "Product Going in the Right Direction" in the Summer 2024 reports. Dozens of credentialing features have been added or enhanced with many more planned.

4. System Consolidation

MedTrainer's all-in-one platform eliminates the need for point solutions that are expensive, and cause headaches, technical issues, and lost time. With a natively-built platform, everything works together in a unified way, modifications can be made quickly, and it's easier for end users. Add compliance training, document management, incident reporting, or contract management at any time.

5. Highly-Rated Customer Support

MedTrainer's customer support answers 95% of calls for support within two rings and resolves requests within an hour, on average. In addition to live and virtual support, MedTrainer also offers a customer support center with a robust video library and multiple service levels.

6. Fully-Managed Services

If your organization needs more than just software, you can outsource all credentialing to MedTrainer's team of credentialing specialists. These geographically-focused teams use the credentialing platform to complete all tasks, so you have real-time visibility into every action.

"We have several providers for our five clinics and one person who handles credentialing needs. MedTrainer has helped save us time to focus on more billing tasks at hand."

– Dana Eberhard, FASA Family Wellness PLLC
